

Pictures of World Events for News Readers

In This Department Our Readers in Fulton County and Elsewhere May Journey Around the World With the Camera on the Trail of History Making Happenings.

KEYSTONE STATE IN SHORT ORDER

Latest News Happenings Gathered From Here and There.

TOLD IN SHORT PARAGRAPHS

WORST WRECK IN HISTORY OF THE NEW YORK CENTRAL

Photo by N.E.A.

This photograph shows the remains of two Pullman coaches of the first section of the Chicago-Pittsburgh Limited, and the engine of the second section is seen in the debris. The wreck occurred near Amherst, O., and at least 26 persons were killed and 40 injured.

VIEW OF WRECK IN OHIO WHICH COST 26 LIVES

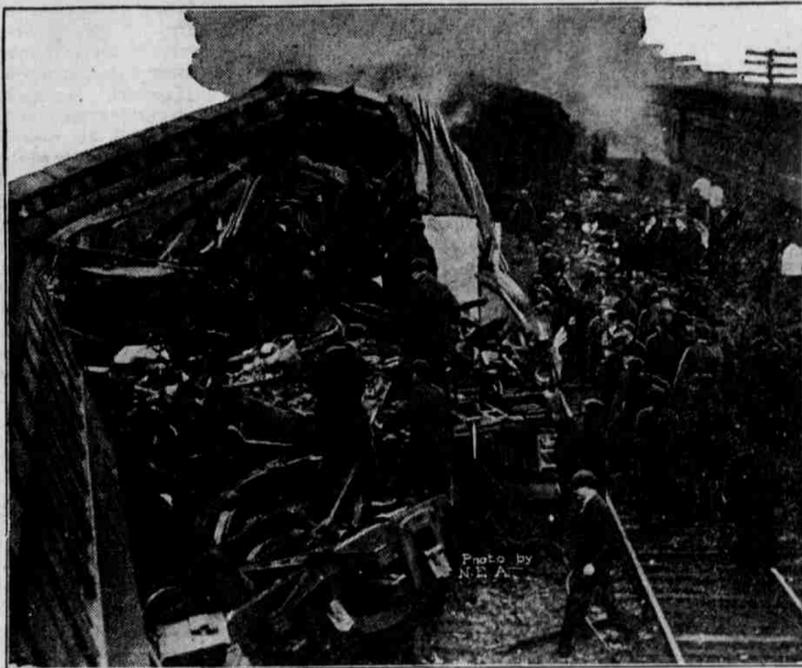

Photo by N.E.A.

This photograph gives a general view of the wreck of the New York Central train near Amherst, O. The coaches on the left are part of the first section of the Chicago-Pittsburgh Limited. In the center in the midst of the debris is the engine of the second section and on the right are seen the rear coaches of the Twentieth Century which crashed into the wreckage of the two sections of the Chicago-Pittsburgh train just after they had come into collision.

Inflated by the advances of Fred Koese, aged fifty-two years, Mrs. Ben Pioto, aged forty-three years, of Finleyville, seized a hatchet and attacked him, fracturing his skull and gashing him about the head and face. During the struggle a four-months-old child of Mrs. Pioto, which she had in her arms, was hurled to the floor and its skull fractured, the child dying a short time later. Koese is in a dying condition, but is under arrest in connection with the child's death. These facts were ascertained by County Detective Frank H. Mitchell, who conducted an investigation.

Forty men driving a tunnel in the Butler Colliery of the Pennsylvania Coal Company, were engulfed in water up to their necks when they drove through a wall of rock and released a body of water in an abandoned section. Superintendent George B. O'Hara was rescued unconscious, while ten others were taken out with difficulty by their fellow-workmen. The water spread over a considerable portion of the mine, stopping all operations.

James P. Hughes was released from the Schuylville county prison, with a record of having served a total of forty-eight years in jails in Pennsylvania and New York, mostly on pickpocket charges. Hughes is seventy-eight years old. He rarely has been out of jail more than a week in the past thirty years. He is dying from tuberculosis.

With her daughter, Maud, eight years old, in her arms, Mrs. Murray English, thirty-nine years old, of Erie, committed suicide at the home of her father at Hadley by jumping into a small lake. The child was drowned with her mother. English conducts a summer hotel and had brought his wife here for her health.

Mrs. Besse Lightfoot, aged twenty-six, and seven-year-old son were found dead in bed at their home in Lancaster with the gas turned on. In the room was found a letter from the woman to her mother asking forgiveness and declaring she had no friends.

Lancaster county is in the throes of an epidemic of mumps and measles. There are thirty-four cases of mumps and fourteen cases of measles in Lancaster. Many adults are ill of the mumps.

James, three-year-old twin son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lenhart, of Wannamakers, got too near the stove while his mother was washing. His clothes caught fire and he was burned to death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dowers, eighty-seven years old, died at her home in Goodville. She leaves nine children, thirty-one grandchildren, sixty-seven great-grandchildren, two brothers and two sisters.

Michael Schultz and George Lohoskie were burned probably fatally in an explosion of gas at the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Company's Henry Clay shaft. Lohoskie opened a safety lamp to ignite a cigarette.

Theodore Schneck, forty-nine years old, a Pinegrove Township farmer, and his eldest daughter, Hattie, eighteen years old, are dead and Mrs. Schneck and three other children seriously ill from asphyxiation by coal gas.

The contract for the preliminary work on the Pennsylvania Railroad's big new freight station, at Harrisburg, was let to John L. L. Kuhn, of that city. The station will cover several city blocks.

State quarantine for smallpox was established in Paint Township, Somerset county. Ten cases of smallpox have been reported and many people are being vaccinated.

Deputy Sheriff William L. Mathews has purchased fifty 'coons, which he will let loose in the thickly wooded districts of Delaware county for breeding.

August Binkle was horribly burned in a gas explosion at Paeker No. 5 Colliery, Shenandoah. Claude Hower and Michael Marconis were seriously injured by a fall of coal and rock at other mines.

Depositors of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings which was closed last December will be paid a fifty per cent. dividend on April 15, according to an announcement by Horace E. Davis, Deputy Attorney General, who is receiver for the bank. The dividend will be the first paid since the bank closed.

Frank Kline, twenty-two years old, of Mohnton, died of blood poisoning, caused by injuries sustained on New Year's Eve while firing a cannon, which exploded.

As Andrew Brusnie stood in a breast at the Philadelphia & Reading Coal and Iron Company's Bear Valley colliery, directing more miners to escape from a fall of rock, a piece of rock hurled him to the bottom of a gangway inflicting internal injuries, likely to prove fatal.

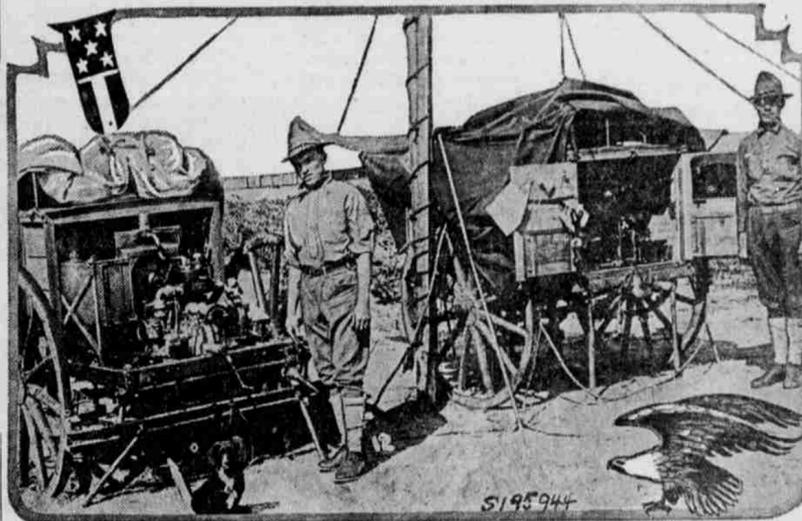

The Cumberland Valley Railroad has inaugurated a system of warning trespassers from the tracks. Posters have been placed along lines and personal postcards are sent to all persons seen on the tracks.

GATHERING BODIES FROM WRECK OF NEW YORK CENTRAL TRAINS

This photograph, taken shortly after the collision near Amherst, O., shows rescuers gathering up pieces of bodies of the victims of the wreck.

FIELD WIRELESS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY

This photograph shows a close view of the wireless outfits used by the United States troops in the field. This machine is indispensable to the American forces now pursuing Villa.

FOURTH FIELD ARTILLERY ADVANCING THROUGH HILLS IN MEXICO

LIEUT. C. G. CHAPMAN

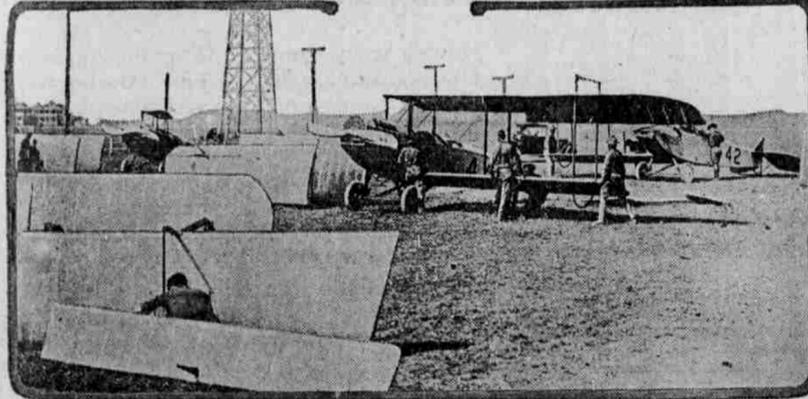

First Lieut. Carleton G. Chapman is one of the aviators in the squadron in Mexico commanded by Captain Foullos

TYPES OF MEXICAN SOLDIERS

ARMY AVIATORS GETTING THEIR MACHINES READY

This photograph shows army aviators preparing their machines for shipment to Mexico.

MEDAL OF HONOR FOR OBREGON

General Obregon, the one-armed commander of Carranza's armies, having a medal of honor pinned on his breast by Senorita Alasorie in the city of Culaya. At the right is General Carranza, de facto president of Mexico.

MRS. ALICE LONGWORTH

This is the latest photograph of Mrs. Alice Longworth, daughter of Colonel Roosevelt, who has resumed her prominent place in the society of Washington since the re-election of her husband to congress.